Bay-Waveland Yacht Club

Youngest Team Ever Wins Lipton Regatta For Third Time

For the third consecutive year anchor man Woody Stieffel led Bay-Waveland Yacht Club to victory in spite of seemingly insurmountable odds in the final race of the Sir Thomas Lipton Challenge Trophy Regatta. As the defending champions Bay-Waveland hosted the 54th Annual GYA Championship on their home course September 1, 2 and 3.

The 13 yacht clubs competing in their own Flying Scots began the series against a brisk east breeze Saturday afternoon. After a downpour and drastic wind shift which changed many hard-earned positions, Fort Walton Yacht Club's Lee Borthwick won the first race, with St. Andrew's Bay Yacht Club second, Bill Wiseloge at the helm. Bubby Eagan, with Ellen Eagan and Chris Stieffel crewing, earned a third place for Bay Waveland Yacht Club. Sunday morning's race was postponed twice as the contestants sailed through rain and seas and 25-knot winds. Robert Brennan of New Orleans Yacht Club, who was leading the race, turned over with spinnaker flying at the reaching mark, but righted his boat, recovered his position, and won the second race.

Buzzy Heausler, who skipped for Bay Waveland with Ann and Chris Stieffel crewing, finished fifth, placing BWYC third in the Regatta behind first place Fort Walton Yacht Club and second place Pensacola Yacht Club. John Dane III of Southern Yacht Club won the third race Sunday afternoon, putting SYC ahead with 32 1/2 points. Marc Eagan, with Ellen Eagan and Chuck Breath crewing, finished third, placing Bay Waveland a close second with 31 points.

The pressure was on the home team going into the final race of the Series Monday. Bay-Waveland had to either win the race, or beat both Fort Walton and Southern Yacht Clubs, putting at least one boat between Bay-Waveland and Southern. Anchor man Woody Stieffel and his crew Cindy Stieffel and Jim Holmes gave the hundreds of spectators some real thrills and anxious moments as they skillfully worked their way up from eighth place to pass Mike Sperry of Southern Yacht Club. About as fast as Stieffel succeeded in putting the needed boats between them, Sperry also passed them, regaining the point he needed to stay ahead of Bay Waveland.

At the end of the second round, victory for Bay-Waveland looked remote, as Charlie Erickson of New Orleans Yacht Club rounded the leeward mark first with a comfortable lead over BWYC with Sperry still third. But in a spectacular finale, Stieffel reached the windward mark of the Gold Cup course ahead of the entire fleet, and soared across the finish line to win the race and the Lipton trophy once again for Bay Waveland Yacht Club.

All four races were sailed through rain as well as wind. The worst casualties were two broken masts. Although there were several capsize, each recovered to finish the race.

It is traditional that a winning club may host the Lipton Regatta no more than two consecutive years; therefore, second place Southern Yacht Club will host the 1974 Lipton on Lake Pontchartrain.

Return To Nostalgia

by Adoree Shortle
Echo News Editor

"Here it comes!" someone cried, and everyone turned toward the bay to watch the distant cloud of black smoke spiraling up from the train approaching on the bay railroad bridge.

No longer does a crowd of residents and barefoot children gather in small towns to watch the train go through. The sight of a diesel-driven freight train rumbling through town doesn't even cause a second glance these days.

But the train that came through Bay St. Louis twice last Sunday was no ordinary train. And it drew a crowd of onlookers that had gathered and dispelled repeatedly throughout the gloomy, rain-swept afternoon in anticipation of a brief return to the nostalgia of bygone days.

This was a special train which had traveled all the way south from Washington, D. C., pulled by double headed steam engines, long obsolete in today's modern, ecology-minded society. Most of the children milling around the beach road railroad tracks, ranging in age from babies in arms to teenagers, had never seen a steam locomotive, majestically belching great billows of black smoke and raining specks of hot cinders indiscriminantly on the swelling crowd.

The occasion was an annual convention of the National Railroad Society, held this year in New Orleans where rail buffs from all over the country gathered for a variety of excursions and other activities.

A highlight of the convention was Sunday's all-day excursion train to Biloxi on the Louisville and Nashville line along the Gulf Coast, affording senior Coast residents a vicarious trip back in time, when going down to the train station and watching the excursion trains go through was a very exciting thing to do on a Saturday or Sunday afternoon.

Sunday's train pulling club cars and drawing room cars, coaches and observation cars, had everything to please both the old-timers as well as today's adherent of creature comforts. There was a tape recording compartment (for taping the sounds of the iron behemoth), air-conditioned coaches, food and beverages on the observation cars.

There were also a lot of people hanging out of windows and standing on platforms happily waving to everything and everybody as the train clicked by. Train passengers took pictures of onlookers at railroads who were taking pictures of the train passengers.

On the return trip Sunday late afternoon, the train stopped at beach drive and what seemed like hundreds of laughing passengers and children poured out of the cars and joined the Bay townspeople to take pictures of their train. Engineers obligingly backed the train well out onto the bridge and came streaming and tooting back so passengers and NRHS members could get their own photographic moments.

It was a delightful experience for both participants and local residents. As the train disappeared into the distance, one oldtimer remarked, "I haven't seen this big a crowd around here since they took the excursions off."

Search Continues For Summers' Assailant

by Susan Irby
Echo staff writer

Police in a two-state area were still searching Wednesday for a Sildell man wanted in connection with the Friday morning murder of a Pearlinton store owner.

A second 22-year-old Sildell man believed to have been an accomplice of the fugitive at the time of the murder is being held by St. Tammany Parish Sheriff's Department in Louisiana while Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner, Jr., is seeking extradition to Mississippi.

Bernard "Wild Man" Curry, 24, is being sought in the shooting death early Friday of Thomas Forrest Summers, 62, Sheriff Ladner said Wednesday that Curry is probably armed and is considered extremely dangerous. He is described as a black man, 5'6", 160-170 pounds. Witnesses said he was last seen

VICTIM - Thomas Forrest Summers, 62-year-old store owner in Pearlinton, was shot to death Friday by a gunman who entered the store and attempted a holdup. Witnesses to the murder included Summers' wife, a clerk, and a customer.

Bay Police Thwart Attempted Burglary

Bay St. Louis police arrested two Bay youths shortly after midnight Wednesday as they were attempting to break into the Frostop Drive-in on Highway 90.

Auxiliary Patrolman Frank Hess caught Ricky Soldini and David Bourgeois, both 18, as they were attempting to gain entry into the back of the establishment about 12:30 a.m. Bay Ptn. Harris Boudreaux and Wilbert Dorsey answered Hess' call for assistance. Soldini was carrying a concealed knife, according to police.

Both youths were booked at the county jail and charged with attempted burglary. An additional charge of concealed weapon was brought against Soldini, who is being held under a $1,500 bond. Bourgeois' bond was set at $500.

A hearing on the case was scheduled for Wednesday night before City Judge Joseph Benvenuti.

wearing a pink-flowered shirt and red pants.

He also faces charges by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Summers' wife, a female clerk, and a female customer told Sheriff Ladner that a black man they later identified by photo as Curry entered the store around 8:30 a.m. Friday wearing a pink and blue shirt. "This is a holdup," Summers, who was on the telephone at the time, ignored the threat until it was made a third time. At this point, according to witnesses' statements to the sheriff, Summers put down the phone and moved towards the armed man. The man reportedly discharged his handgun and struck Summers in the upper right arm. The gunman fled, and Summers died almost instantly. No money was taken in the incident.

Alfred Thomas, Jr., faces charges in Hancock County of accessory to armed robbery and murder after his arrest in Sildell Friday during an extensive search by Hancock authorities, Mississippi Highway Patrol investigators, and St. Tammany Parish police.

Acting on information given to Hancock Deputy Willie Lee which linked Thomas with the incident, St. Tammany authorities awakened Thomas at his Effie St. home in Sildell and took him into custody on charges of being a fugitive from Mississippi. Thomas refused to waive extradition, and Sheriff Ladner immediately began conducting extradition proceedings Friday.

Police and State Patrol helicopters meanwhile continued the search for Curry in a wooded area off I-10 at the Sildell exit.

Witnesses placed Curry's car, a 1964 chocolate brown Chevrolet, on a side road within one block of the store at the time of the murder.

MURDER SUSPECT - Mississippi and Louisiana police have issued a general bulletin for Bernard Curry, 24, of Sildell who is wanted in connection with the Friday morning murder of a Pearlinton store owner. Curry is believed to be armed and is considered to be extremely dangerous.

A FOND FAREWELL with much regret at his leaving is bid Father George Heffner, right, by Emilie Hazen and members of the Bay St. Louis community on the occasion of Fr. Heffner's transfer to a Louisiana parish, after seven years as pastor of St. Rose de Lima Church in Bay St. Louis. The two are pictured at a recent farewell party in honor of the priest.

Fr. Heffner

Who Will Fill The Gap?

One of the area's most beloved and respected members of the clergy was honored last week at a large farewell party on the occasion of his transfer to another parish.

Community leaders as well as many members of St. Rose de Lima parish attended the affair at St. Augustine Seminary honoring Fr. George Heffner, leaving Bay St. Louis after seven years as Divine Word missionary pastor of St. Rose church. The deep esteem in which Fr. Heffner was held was evident in a program presented for the occasion by children of the parish and school. The prayer was offered by Rev. Charles Gilles and Bay St. Louis Mayor Warren Carver gave the opening address.

The St. Rose choir performed under the direction of Donald Robinson and a special salute was presented by the Girl Scout troop, under Mrs. Marilyn Williams, leader, and the St. Rose Boy Scouts, under troop leader William Tate. Young Edward Alexander represented the altar boys. Other prominent community leaders attending included Emilie Hazen, president of the parish council; Assistant Police Chief Douglas Williams, president of the Altar Society; Sr. James, principal of St. Rose de Lima School; and Maurice Singleton, St. Rose School board.

A grateful community presented Fr. Heffner a shower of gifts, which included a trophy from the CYO and a number of plaques from various organizations with which he had been associated. Fr. Heffner returns as pastor to Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church in St. Martinville, La. where he formerly served as an assistant.

TROOP 217 REORGANIZED
Boy Scout Troop 217 will have a re-organization meeting Tuesday night at Our Lady of the Gulf cafeteria, at 7:30 p.m. A troop spokesman urges parents to attend the meeting with their children of scouting age (11 to 18). Refreshments will be served.

No injuries resulted from a two-car collision at Second and de Montluzin. Saturday, although both vehicles sustained damage, according to a report from Police Chief William Carbonette. Wilmer Miller of New Orleans was cited for failure to yield right of way after his 1969 Buick collided with a 1967 Chevrolet, driven by Hezekiah Thompson of Pearlington. Ptn. Emmitt Ellis assisted in investigation.

Later the same day, a pickup truck, driven by Paul Lewis, skidded on the wet surface of Dunbar Ave. near Uman and slid into a utility pole, breaking the pole and heavily damaging the truck. Lewis was taken to Hancock General Hospital where he was treated for minor injuries and released. Investigating officers were Asst. Chief Douglas Williams and Ptn. Ellis.

Bay Council

Action Deferred On Fire Truck Purchase

A Bay St. Louis City Council bid opening Tuesday was delayed close to an hour over a technicality when one of the four bids submitted for a 1,000-gallon pumper didn't get to the council chamber until after the others were opened.

A bid package from Martin Blough of Jackson, sent special delivery, arrived in City Hall before the 11 a.m. opening deadline according to Mayor Warren Carver, but wasn't brought into the meeting room until after three competitive bid packages had been opened. An objection by Jack Cocky of Mobile to acceptance of Blough's bid caused the delay until board attorney Joseph Gex rendered a legal decision in favor of accepting the bid in question.

Apparent low bidder on the pumper was Cocky with a price of $31,720. Other bids were Martin Blough, $33,300; Moosa of Eunice, La., $39,907; American Fire Co. of Jackson, $34,842.90.

Separate bids were opened for 1,200 feet of two-and-a-half inch hose and six hundred feet of one-and-a-half inch hose. Three of the above companies bidding and their prices included Moosa who submitted a total bid price of $1,584 for the two-and-a-half inch hose, and $552 for the one-and-a-half; Martin Blough bidding $1,300 per foot for the larger hose and 90 cents per foot for the smaller; Cocky quoted $1.22 for the larger hose and 83 and one-half cents for the smaller.

All bids were taken under advisement by the council. Also taken under advisement were two bids submitted for purchase of a dump truck. Turan-Lane Chevrolet was apparent low bidder with a price of $6,277.86, while Henderson Ford bid $6,774.

In an unrelated matter only one bid was received from Crown Construction Co. in the amount of $1,480 for repairs to the packer on a city sanitation department truck. A motion was passed to accept Crown's bid and a separate motion recorded to advertise for purchase of a new chassis for the truck.

City Commissioner Lucien Kidd was appointed Civil Defense coordinator for Bay St. Louis under the newly adopted Hancock County Bay-Waveland combined C.D. organization. Mayor Carver also, expressed a wish that County C.D. Director Donald McIntyre submit a monthly activity report on all Civil Defense matters.

Scholarships Added At USM

Several "name" scholarships have been added to the rolls administered by the University of Southern Mississippi Foundation, which serves as the receptacle for all gifts to the school.

According to Powell G. Ogletree, secretary-treasurer, the donors set stipulations for recipients. A scholarship committee selects the students, guided by these requests, giving consideration to citizenship and academic records, and to economic need factors. Recipients will be announced later.

Three coastal institutions are among the additions to the "name" scholarship ranks - two in Gulfport and one in Pascagoula.

The Gulfport donors are Gulf National Bank, recommending the award for a Hancock or Harrison county with a "B" average in high school and in financial need; and Merchants Bank & Trust Company, requesting a Hancock or Harrison county resident with preference to a junior or senior in business or finance.

First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Pascagoula-Moss Point, has asked its award to be given to a Jackson county student.

State News In Brief

HATTIESBURG - Coeds have topped another bastion of male supremacy—the Reserve Officers Training Corps—and for the first time this fall the guys and the gals will be marching forward together at the University of Southern Mississippi.

While not hand and hand, they'll at least be in step with each other, as women successfully compete with their male counterparts for a second lieutenant's commission.

Col. Wilfred Irish, Chairman of the Department of Military Science at USM, points out "this interesting marriage of women's liberation and the United States Army is a positive reflection of the Army's equal opportunity employment effort."

The coeds, as cadets and as officers, will be directly competitive with men in all fields with the exception of combat positions.

JACKSON - The Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Commission has moved to newly renovated offices on the eleventh floor of the Robert E. Lee State Office Building.

JACKSON - The Federal Revenue Sharing Act requires Mississippi officials to notify all news media in the state and report how revenue sharing funds have been spent during the first 18 months of the program.

From January 1, 1972 to June 30, 1973, Mississippi received $37,637,474 in revenue sharing funds. Expenditures totaled $31,008 with $30,850 going for economic development while $158 was spent on publication expense.

JACKSON - The Boat and Water Safety Commission reports boating fatalities are down 30 percent over the same period a year ago. Last year there were 56 fatalities at this time compared to 39 fatalities so far this year.

The Commission said fatalities were down 70 percent on major reservoirs where full time patrolmen are assigned.

Two of the largest bulldozers in the world are being utilized in preparation of a future four-lane highway being built under the largest

Drug Specialists Come To School Systems

New drug education specialists employed by school districts in Hancock County are participating in a program believed to be unique in the nation.

Specialists hired by local school administrators are Ebner R. Ferguson, employed by Hancock County Schools and Wilmer E. Seymour, Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District.

Dr. Garvin Johnston, state superintendent of education, said that the hiring of 154 full-time drug education specialists in schools over the state is generally regarded as

Ring Ceremony Held At SSC

Monday morning 74 seniors were given class rings at St. Stanislaus High School in Bay St. Louis.

The traditional ceremony was held in the St. Stanislaus Chapel with faculty members and parents of the seniors as guests.

Brother Benet, senior class moderator, welcomed the seniors and their guests. Rev. Gerhard Vogel, S.V.D., rector of St. Augustine Seminary, blessed the senior rings and Brother Pierre St. Pierre, president of St. Stanislaus, distributed the rings to the seniors.

Brother Lee Barker, principal of St. Stanislaus, gave a short address to the seniors in which he stressed the importance of the leadership expected of the seniors of St. Stanislaus.

This year's senior class will represent the 120th graduating class in the history of St. Stanislaus High School.

New Orleans

Doctor Is

Guest Speaker

The Gulf Coast Chapter of the Mississippi Association for Children with Learning Disabilities will hold its first meeting of the school year at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 10, in the United Gas Co. auditorium in Gulfport.

The guest speaker will be Joseph F. Arnault, Ph.D., of New Orleans who is chairman of the Department of Psychological Sciences in the Jefferson Parish school system. Dr. Arnault is also an advisory board member of the New Orleans Association for Children with Learning Disabilities.

His subject Monday will include discussion of what parents can do at home to help learning disabled children.

the only statewide program of its kind in the nation.

Johnston said the new program was made possible with an over $1.9 million appropriation from the 1973 state legislature.

The legislature assigned total responsibility for administration of funds for the program to the State Department of Education.

All the specialists were hired by, and are directly responsible to, the superintendents of school districts employing them, Dr. Johnston stated.

In a recent interview, Dr. James Parkman, alcohol and narcotics education consultant for the Division of Instruction, SDE, gave his views on the role of drug education specialists in schools.

"We see the drug education specialists in an educational role — not in a police role," he said.

"Education is one answer to preventing drug abuse. We hope that these new specialists will be resource persons for entire communities. We hope they'll be involved with communities in any efforts to develop drug abuse education programs.

"In addition to serving students in public schools, they should be available to adults, parents, churches, civic clubs, and students in non-public schools.

"This is a prevention program. Some communities have few drug-related problems; we want to keep it that way," he explained.

Dr. Parkman said that some suggested guidelines as to duties and responsibilities of drug education specialists were:

—assisting teachers in drug abuse education activities in schools.

—assisting in efforts to get student involvement in the development of drug abuse education programs.

—providing in-service activities for teachers and students in schools, as well as adults in communities.

"We hope that these new full-time specialists will in time be regarded as their community's most knowledgeable resource person in the field of drug abuse education," Parkman said.

Health Dept. Warns

Against Spray

Adhesives

The Mississippi State Board of Health today issued a warning concerning the use of aerosol spray adhesives.

"Information received from the Consumer Product Safety Commission strongly urges consumers to discontinue use of the products and retailers to stop sales," said Dr. Alton B. Cobb, State Health Officer.

Four spray adhesives—"Foil Art Spray Adhesive," "Scotch Brand Spray-Ment," and "3M Spray Adhesive No. 77," all manufactured by the 3-M Company, St. Paul, Minn.; and "Krylon Spray Adhesive," manufactured by the Borden Co., Columbus, Ohio, have been possibly linked to chromosome breaks which could cause multiple birth defects in offspring from persons having contact with these substances.

"While such chromosomal damage presents no immediate danger to exposed children or adults, there is concern about the genetic damage which may cause problems in subsequent offspring," according to Dr. Cobb.

Research by the Commission linked spray adhesives to chromosomal breaks in two severely deformed Oklahoma City infants, their parents and four other individuals in the area. These spray adhesives had been used as part of a home artwork hobby.

The Board of Health released an additional list of suspect products which includes several products manufactured by 3M and one, Marshall's Photo-Mount Spray Adhesive, a Borden Company product.

The 3M list includes: Sears Multi-Purpose Spray Adhesive; Scotch Multi-Purpose Spray Adhesive; Scotch-Grip Brand Floral Adhesive; 3M shipping Mate Palletizing Adhesive; 3M Spray Trim Adhesive; Tuff-Bond Spray Adhesive; Bear Brand Spray Trim Adhesive; Tri-Chem Spray Mist Adhesive.

Dr. Cobb advises Mississippians to discontinue the use of these products immediately. Retailers are asked to remove these products from sale and hold them for manufacturers' pickup. "Although more study is being done for final proof on the safety of these products, and until a complete analysis can be made, the risk involved in their use is too great," he emphasized.

Chester L. Curvey

APPEALS ON VA CLAIMS
The Congress recognized many years ago that all claims for V. A. benefits could not be handled in a manner which would be satisfactory to all persons who sought VA benefits. The provision was then made for an appeal procedure. It should be used in the proper manner at all times.

The current appeal process for veterans and other VA claimants is a two-step process. When the claimant does not believe that his or her case has been properly handled, it is necessary to notify the VA in writing of his or her disagreement.

Upon receipt of the letter of other form of disagreement, the appropriate VA office is required to prepare for the claimant a "Statement Of The Case." This statement is a typewritten document showing the evidence contained in the VA records pertaining to the question at issue, the laws and regulations under which the decision was made and reasons why the decision was rendered.

The claimant must then review the information provided and determine whether he still wants to submit a formal appeal. If he does wish to appeal, he must complete the VA Form 1-9, and submit it to VA within sixty (60) days from the date the statement of the case was sent to him.

Upon receipt of the formal appeal form, the VA office of jurisdiction must again consider the case. If the previous decision is still held to be correct, then the entire file is forwarded to the Board of Appeals in the VA Central Office, in Washington, D.C.

The Board is then responsible for determining whether the local VA office rendered the proper decision, or whether a different decision is in order. The claimant will be notified directly by the Board of Veterans Appeals of any decision that is made.

It is most important that a Veteran or other claimant be certain that all available evidence has been submitted prior to making an appeal. Many claimants continue to send letters of disagreement, receive the statement of the case and then submit new evidence. Such action does of course require the VA to reconsider the case and causes much delay and extra work.

An appeal is, of course, the last step in attempting to obtain a favorable decision with reference to a Veterans Administration benefit. There is no further recourse, nor is there any higher authority to which a case may be taken. The Board of Veterans Appeals is, therefore, the Court of Last Resort as it pertains to VA claims, and it does not serve any purpose to write your Congressman (Representative or Senator) to help you get the benefits you think you deserve, after you have been denied by the Court of Appeals.

When making an appeal contact your Service Officer who will help you in every way possible to gather the information needed to submit a substantive appeal.

Washington Report

By: Rep. Trent Lott

HOME SWEET HOME

When I made the rounds of the Fifth Congressional District these last two weeks of August, I asked as many questions as I answered. The people, as I expected, spoke frankly and clearly about their problems and concerns.

Because South Mississippians have always demonstrated a marked ability to think for themselves, I was not surprised when they insisted that Watergate and a host of assorted "issues" had not distracted their attention from their real concerns. Watergate - to be sure - was on their minds, but it failed to dominate their evaluation of the world around them.

Instead, the people wanted to talk about food prices and Social Security inequities and ill-conceived federal spending. Their minds were on their pocketbooks - and their pocketbooks weren't exactly bulging with a surplus of money.

The delay in construction of Interstate 10 and the irritating traffic problems connected with that delay also drew strong reactions. The natives, to say the least, are restless and they're unhappy that they've been told to wait another six years for decent driving conditions along the Coast.

In response to their observations about the economy, I agreed that something must be done to curb irrational federal spending habits initiated in the Congress. Our economy will never regain solid footing until Congress regains its senses and directs its attention to prudent federal spending.

To those who voiced displeasure over the controversial delay in construction of I-10, I reiterated my pledge to keep a close watch on all developments. I just simply refuse to accept the theory that it will be 1979 or 1980 before it is completed.

That brings to mind a letter received last week in my Washington office. The letter, written by a Biloxi man, voiced total disgust with many facets of the I-10 construction.

He insists, for example, that he drove on "dirt" I-10 more than six months ago between State Road 57 and North Biloxi. He wants to know why it will be late 1974 or early 1975 before that relatively short stretch of interstate is ready for use.

I, too, would like to know the answer. To that end, I am continuing to press both state and federal highway officials for the facts.

One task I particularly enjoyed during my swing through the Fifth Congressional District was visiting in my three district offices. I was pleased that some many of our constituents make use of the district offices in Gulfport, Laurel and Hattiesburg.

Miss Marie Darsey, a longtime staff member for former Congressman William Colmer, says a steady stream of Coast residents keeps her busy in the Gulfport office. They visit the office, located in the Post Office building, to voice problems ranging from Social Security to the military.

The Laurel office, manned by Jim Johnson and Mrs. Molly Newton, encounters similar problems. Location of the office in the Federal Building makes it easy for constituents when they make the rounds of various federal agencies.

The Hattiesburg office, located in Forrest Towers, is open only three days a week but office manager Richard Travis gets all the business he can handle.

In short, the people of South Mississippi know what affects them in their daily struggle to put food on the table. My recent swing through the Fifth Congressional District reaffirmed my belief that they are familiar with the REAL issues in this country.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor:

I keep wondering why the length of a boy's hair should be an issue and why a boy should be refused registration in school until his hair is cut to the length the so called "dress code" calls for. Personally, I do not like, nor do I approve of messy and unkempt long hair on a boy, but when it is kept clean and is of the length that is popular and in style for the young lads of today why put such stress on the exact way it should be cut and I would like to know who is responsible for forcing the kids to cut their hair or demanding the way they should wear it. Some of the outstanding men in American History wore long hair and no one dictated to them how to wear it; they did pretty well I think and I believe parents should have the say so how their kids should dress or wear their hair. Thank you. Please sign me "A Grandmother."

Sincerely,

Mrs. Charles Van Trier

A strong, damp wind had been blowing for three days from the Atlantic toward the Caribbean. When it crossed the line of islands north of Trinidad it was bounced around a little, but it soon regained its pattern and picked up speed as it whipped the tops off the waves in the open sea. A trap was waiting for it, however, when it hit the land masses of Panama and Nicaragua on one side and Jamaica and Cuba on the other, and snarled over Havana and the westward tip of Cuba and headed for the open water of the Gulf of Mexico.

The abrupt turn had also made the wind mass begin to revolve, and as it sped north the counter-clockwise swirling of the currents increased their velocity and compacted themselves into a smaller-but more intense entity. The wind was now a hurricane at 35 miles per hour, growing stronger every minute as it rushed across the warm water of the Gulf.

Naturally, the whirlwinds had scooped up an immense quantity of water as they swooped over the sea, and this was carried along, rotated by the angry blasts of the wind and added to constantly from the sun-heated seas below it. Also the swift wind, like a giant squeegee, pushed the waves into a giant tide which rolled along a little behind the center of the storm. Lightning and thunder marked the path of the hurricane, but all other sound was drowned out by the screeching of the 150-mile-an-hour wind.

And now the land appeared ahead, pretty and peaceful, clothed in trees and bushes and dotted with buildings and other works of man. The approaching whirlwind had sucked the water back from the regular beach line and the wet sand now stretched out a mile or more from the normal shore; land-birds drawn into the twisting eddies of wind were now fighting hard to get back to their home grounds, and some of them made it.

The low air-pressure area in which the hurricane operated now gave it a final push against the land, which it hit like a battering ram. The powerful stream of wind knocked down almost everything in its path, twisting houses off their bases, caving in the sides of buildings and sending their roofs flying through the air, tearing bushes and small trees up by their roots and overturning great old trees like straws. The heart of the storm followed a wide road into the interior and spread destruction for a mile on either side.

But then the obstruction of the land mass itself began to work against the wind, and rain falling in torrents from the over-burdened clouds helped to slow the progress of the storm. The tide, flowing back to the shoreline, spread a dozen feet deep over the devastated land. The wind, having passed the epicenter and constantly diminishing, found itself dying out as it crossed the land and let the rain have its turn of battering the countryside, finally drifting on a hundred miles and dying away over a flooded land.

Chamber Report

By Sylvia McComiskey
Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Manager

Our Chamber president, E. J. Marengo, personally spoke to Congressman Trent Lott and he has agreed to help our Chamber, along with other Coast Chambers, to do all possible to locate the I-10 Hospitality Booth in the most advantageous position for our area and the entire Gulf Coast. We feel that we have gained strong collective support from the entire Coast and that can make all the difference in the success of this project.

A request to the State Highway Department that a sign be placed under the new I-10 sign that states "Gulfport, Biloxi, Mobile" reading "Gulf Coast Scenic Route" has met with approval by the State Hwy. Commissioner. If the standards set up by the Federal Highway Administration will allow this sign to be placed beneath the existing sign at Highway 607, this sign will be put up as soon as Federal permission is received. This request was placed by the Hancock County Chamber, Pass Christian Chamber, Long Beach Chamber, and the Mayors of Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian and Long Beach. We thank everyone concerned for their time and cooperation and feel that this additional sign will be of benefit to us all.

It is our understanding that the Interstate will be completely open through Southern Mississippi within the next two years. Advertising Highway 90 as a "Scenic Route" is a necessity toward diversion of traffic from I-10 through the Coast area. Highway merchants can certainly help make Highway 90 a Scenic Route by taking a look at their properties and adjacent lots for useless and unsightly signs and objects that can be easily removed. You can make your highway attractive. Don't wait!!

County Agent's Notes

John W. Smith
County Agent
Hancock County

SUBSOILING AND CHISELING
Farm equipment easily compacts sandy loam, silt loam and silty clay loam soils. These soils need subsoiling. 12 to 20 inches deep every year. Subsoiling can really improve water intake as well as the effective rooting zone of plants. The compaction layer can be shattered better when the soil is dry. It is most important that soils recently landformed are subsoiled. Subsoiling should be the last trip over the field in the fall.

BROADCASTING FERTILIZER
Broadcasting Fertilizer is the modern way. The farmer doing the job himself can spread the fertilizer faster. Custom broadcasting provided by many fertilizer dealers lets the farmer use his time for other jobs. One big problem about broadcast spreading is lack of uniformity of spread by some vendors. The farmer should have someone in the field to help flag for the driver to get proper overlap of spread. About one-third overlap is best with most equipment. Adjustment of equipment is most important.

FERTILIZER SITUATION
Nitrogen and phosphate are both in short supply. Farmers should book their needs well in advance of application time. Soil testing to determine lime, phosphate and potash needs can show which fields most need fertilizer.

PASTURES
Lime Pastures. With harvest time upon us, lime vendors will soon be swamped with requests to lime row cropland. By liming pastures now, farmers can help make more trucks available to lime row crops after harvest. Lime applied now will pay off in years to come. Encourage farmers to get lime on now instead of putting it off.

Clover Grass Pastures. Clovers added in grass pastures will improve the quality of forage, supply a major part of the nitrogen needed and extend the grazing season.

October and November are the months to establish clovers in new pastures and to overseed established pastures. The keys to getting stands and good growth of clover are:

- Prepare a good seedbed for new pasture.
- Use recommended rates of lime, phosphate and potash.
- Seed on surface of soil or very shallow after October 1.
- Inoculate all seed.
- Graze down established grass or clip it closely before seeding clover.

Overseeding Pastures. Farmers should not overseed pastures with ryegrass until growth of summer grass slows down. Remove the summer grass before overseeding. Fertilize at or before seeding with 60 pounds per acre each of nitrogen, phosphate and potash. If summer grass is thick, disk or renovate after removing the grass. Seed with 35 pounds of ryegrass per acre.

SEED
Seed Production. Seed prices are high, small grain supplies are tight and clover seed supplies are short. We have an excellent opportunity to increase both small grain and clover seed production.

Seed Production plans should be made now. A producer can't wait until next spring and decide he wants to save seed from some crop he happens to have growing.

Seed crops should be planted on clean land, land that is as free from problem weeds as possible. They need to be on land that can be easily harvested.

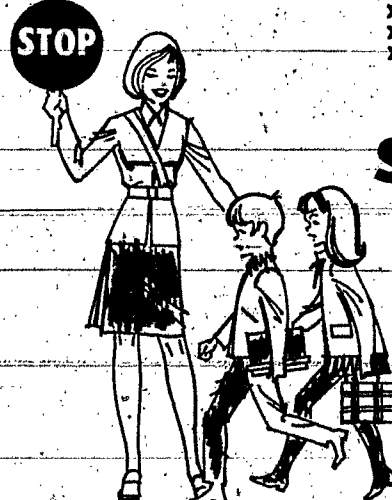

It is important to plant clean seed, seed that are free of weed seed. Seed crops can be lost because of wild onion, dodder or other weeds. Weed seed can make clovers and small grains difficult to sell or unfit for sale.

Anyone planning to produce seed of a protected variety must make arrangements with the owner (parent company) or if the seed is to be produced through certification then he must make the necessary arrangements to produce certified seed.

To produce certified seed, registered seed must be planted. The producer must also be affiliated with the Mississippi Seed Improvement Association, the state's official seed certifying agency. If seed are to be certified, fields must be inspected and approved; they must meet certification standards.

Prisoner Checks Out

Hancock County Jail: The Ins And Outs

By Susan Irby
Echo Staff Writer

An agile Atlanta, Ga., man being booked in Hancock County Jail Thursday night on charges of possession of stolen property and possession of burglary tools managed to elude deputies and flee the jail on foot only to return some five hours later to successfully retrieve his car as a climax to his escape.

Sheriff Sylvan Ladner, Jr., said that Gene Thompson, 29, formerly of Atlanta, was stopped by a State highway patrolman on a speeding violation around 9:15 p.m. Thursday. Further investigation revealed that Thompson was allegedly carrying in his possession nine new watches, 12 new wallets, and numerous automobile keys.

He was escorted to the jail by the patrolman where Deputy Bob Harvey booked him. Harvey said that while he was taking Thompson to his cell, Thompson pushed him into the jail wall and ran.

Outside the jail building, Narcotics Special Agent Paul Bernard fired several shots over the escapee's head in an attempt to stop him as Thompson scaled fences in flight. Highway Patrolman Clyde Hester was summoned with his dog Hash and tracked Thompson to the rear of The Sea Coast Echo building before the scent was lost.

Sheriff Ladner said that Thompson returned close to 3 a.m. Friday to retrieve his car. Deputies were delayed in pursuing him at this point, however, because Thompson had apparently taken the keys from the only patrol car in the sheriff's parking lot.

The search again resumed a short time later when sheriff's deputies found Thompson's abandoned car on the highway. Highway patrolman Hester was again called and with Hash tracked the fugitive into Devil Swamp. The pursuit continued several hours through the depths of the wildly overgrown marsh until Thompson reached the Pearl River and began swimming toward the Louisiana line. Hester at this point was forced to abandon the search on foot.

He and sheriff's deputies were called off the search Friday morning with the report of the murder of Pearlington store owner Thomas Forrest Summers. 467-4844.

German Visitor Enjoys Coast Attractions

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Horn of Waveland had as a recent visitor Mrs. Sophie Teupoers, of Nuremberg, Germany, who was on her first trip to the United States to visit her daughter, Mrs. Roger Henn, of Biloxi. Staff Sergeant Henn is stationed at Keesler Air Force Base there.

The Horns were hosts to Mrs. Teupoers and Mrs. Henn along with Mrs. Eva Ruhr on a tour of the NASA Test Facility, where they were presented special souvenirs and Skylab patches, as well as at a later dinner party at Haverty's Restaurant where Mrs. Teupoers was introduced to Mississippi Gulf Coast seafoods for the first time. She also encountered her first lobster at Haverty's, which she thoroughly enjoyed, she said. The Havertys presented their German visitor with a silver demi-tasse spoon as a remembrance of Waveland and Mississippi.

One of the most pleasant surprises to Mrs. Teupoers was the discovery of German bread at the Bobby Anne Bakery in Bay St. Louis, which she said was made "just like a German hausfrau would make it".

Asked what impressed her most during her visit, the elderly visitor replied, "The people here are friendly, helpful and always smiling."

County School Trustees Define Janitorial Duties

A clarification of job descriptions for maintenance personnel at Hancock North Central School was effected Tuesday following a lengthy discussion of the matter by Hancock County school trustees and HNC principal J.
A. O'Neal.

O'Neal told school board members that support of the school's present janitorial staff in their refusal to work in any other than specific sections of the buildings would necessitate hiring additional staff.

Certain janitors' allegations that they had been instructed when hired to work within these restrictions are untrue, the board assured O'Neal, and gave the principal authorization to assign maintenance staffers any duties and areas he felt necessary. Any staff member refusing to comply would be faced with dismissal, he was told.

In other school business, the board accepted O'Neal's recommendations to —turn the operation of the concession stand and game
receipts over to the band organization, under O'Neal's supervision, with revenues to be used for that group.

—restrict issuance of season passes for school athletic events to the regular teaching staff, school trustees and the superintendent, the press and the ambulance driver. Absolutely no one else will be admitted free.

—hire Mrs. O'Neal as secretary and assistant bookkeeper at the school to aid Dannie Sue Ladner, who the principal lauded for doing an excellent job working under over-burdened conditions, O'Neal stated.

After verification by Edward LeVasseur, financial consultant to the board, that the budget allowed for the position, a motion was passed unanimously to hire Mrs.
O'Neal.

In separate motions, the board accepted the following faculty additions for Gulfview School - Mrs. Audrey
Viglesias, Mrs. Iris Hughes,
Gail Ladner, Barbara
LaFontaine and Carolyn
Wilkerson. Mrs. Barbara Ladner was hired as janitor for the school, with trustee Lamar Lee abstaining from voting on the latter appointment.

On O'Neal's recommendation Barney Cuevas was hired for outside custodial services at HNC.

In a separate motion, the board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Gladys Shaw as a teachers aid at HNC.

A request by Superintendent Kenneth McCarty to retain Mrs. Maude Hawkins and Elvin Lee on the Gulfview faculty, although both hold B certificates, was tabled by the board pending written authorization from the state department of education.

112 S. SECOND ST.

BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS.

Thoughts of most sportsmen are turning to hunting right now since the dove season runs from Sept. 22 to Oct. 14; Nov. 3-25 and Dec. 22 to Jan. 14. The bag limit is 12.

A special teal duck season runs from Sept. 15 to Sept. 23 with a bag limit of 4 birds. There are three segments of the dove seasons.

J. Burton Angelle, Director of the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission, reminds hunters that they must be in possession of a valid 1973-74 hunting license before going afield. This reminder was issued in light of the opening of the first of the dove seasons in the northern zone at noon on Saturday, September 1.

Highway 190 is the dividing line for the purpose of zoning the state and only that zone north of the highway will be open to dove hunting during these dates.

Shooting hours will be from noon until sunset with a daily bag limit of 24 after the first day. The above information is given because there are quite a few Miss. dove hunters who hunt in Louisiana. A non-resident license is required. If one hunts in our sister state.

Of course, hunting will go on through the winter with rabbit, quail, squirrel, turkey, ducks, deer, etc. coming up later.

The taking of game quadrupeds or birds from aircraft, automobiles or other moving vehicles is prohibited.

As for fishing, both fresh and salt water is improving. This week with low tides most all day green trout and perch fishing should be at its best. White trout, speckles, croakers are still being caught up Jordan River and Bayou La Cade. Hard crabs are giving at this time most anywhere along the seacoast from Cedar Point to Bayou Cade.

The long Labor Day weekend brought thousands of folks owning summer homes and visitors to Bay St. Louis who had house parties, did fishing, crabbing and skiing for the last time this summer.

With cooler weather ahead speckles should move in. Trouting should be the order of the day from now on.

The storm winds and exceptional high tides hindered fishing during the Labor Day weekend. It rained all three days keeping most of the pleasure seekers indoors.

Andy Anderson is spending a week's vacation at his camp on Double Bayou. Andy is doing fishing and crabbing. It is the first time he has had a week off from work in a long time. He is with Avondale at Marrero, La.

Lewar Palmisano, Steve Klein, Kathleen Savou and Eileen Poillon spent part of the Labor Day weekend out at Shoreline Park. The boys both enjoy fishing and hunting and are getting ready for a long hunting season. They are from the west bank of the Miss. River at Harvey, La., where all kind of hunting is good.

Gilbert Lensmeyer, Sr. has a summer home at Waveland. He, his wife, two sons, some friends and two granddaughters went crabbing over the weekend. They caught a half bushel of crabs.

Now that Della passed us by, thank goodness, fishing, crabbing, etc. should get back to normal. Tides will get right and the fish should start hitting again. Bass should start striking under water baits soon.

The first meeting of the St. Stanislaus Sideline Club was held last Tuesday night. It was a work meeting for the members and a good turn out was reported.

William G. Gaudet does mostly salt water fishing and crabbing. He was pretty busy last week collecting money for the Waveland Civic Assn. which sponsored a firework display during the Labor Day holiday. Did a good job we'll say. Bill is also a former newspaper man.

E. J. Vicknair enjoys fishing and crabbing. Goes on every occasion. Gets his share of both.

Henry Pavre is one of our younger sportsmen. He does a little fishing, he said but we think playing pool is his favorite pastime. Pretty good at it too.

Jerry Brady enjoys fishing. He said the only time he catches any fish is when he goes with his friend Tony Johnston. He really knows where they are.

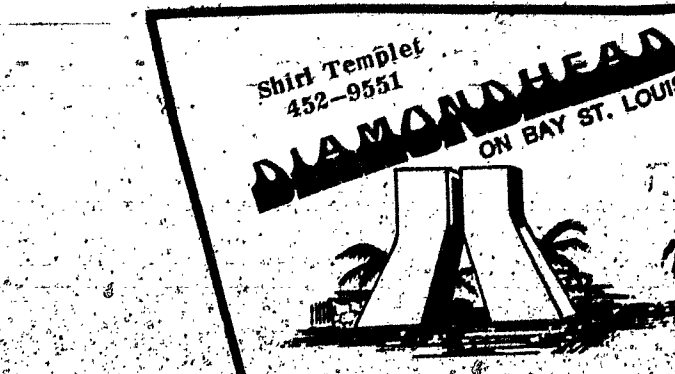

Met a newcomer, Tony Fonseca from Montrose, Pennsylvania. Tony is retired and plans to live at the Bay. He and his family love all kinds of sports. As for him, he is going to do a lot of fishing, his favorite sport. Welcome to this section, Tony.

Sheriff Sylvan Ladner and Alden Mauffray made a nice catch of bass Wednesday. Both are fly fishermen and have been fishing partners for years.

Pat Decker, 10-year-old son of Don Decker, went to Florida with his parents last month and showed the old man how to fish. Caught several bream and ground mullet out of Dead Lakes.

The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission today announced that the 1973-74 trapping season will begin December 1, 1973 and end February 28, 1974. These dates are the same as during the previous two years.

There will be a split duck hunting season in Louisiana this fall. The 15 days of the first half of the hunting dates will begin Nov. 10 and end November 24; second half hunting will encompass 30 days starting Dec. 22 and ending January 20.

The long Labor Day weekend started with a bang in Diamondhead. Highlighting the weekend was the Ladies Volunteer Fire Dept. buffet at the club. Saturday evening with over 100 in attendance, a Country Club dance immediately followed. The ladies were very pleased with their first ways and means event. All proceeds will go towards purchasing needed equipment for the Diamondhead Volunteer Fire Dept.

Judge and Mrs. Dan Russell Jr. entertained Mr. and Mrs. Marvin James, Miss Monica James of Baton Rouge, La. in their Kona Villa Condominium last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gex and family spent Labor Day weekend in Vicksburg, visiting family and friends. Labor Day weekend guests of the George Sorensens were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Davis of New Orleans, Jim and Audrey.

Mrs. Hardy Rogers and children, Covington, La., Mrs. Chris Rodriguez and children were guests of the Bill Templets last Wednesday for a cookout around the Village pool.

The Diamondhead Airport lighting and hangar are now completed and is seeing increasing use. The lighting system of the runway makes an outstanding view from I-10 as you drive by at night.

An established date has been set for the Men's Golf Association monthly meetings which are held in the clubhouse the 3rd Friday of each month at 7:30 p.m. There will be a Ladies Invitational on Sept. 20 with a 9-30 a.m. shotgun start. ## Rayborn Named Director Of Pearl River Assn.

Talley M. Rayborn, 51, formerly executive director of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce from 1970 to 1971 was named executive director of the Pearl River County Development Association recently.

Rayborn, recently associated in the real estate business in Waveland with McCutcheon Real Estate, served from 1958 to 1966 on the Northeast Mississippi Industrial Development Foundation, a development association covering a 23-county area in northeast Mississippi.

Rayborn is currently president of the Rotary Club of Bay St. Louis, a member of the Gulf Coast Crime Commission, a member of the Mississippi-Louisiana Regional Export Expansion Council, U.S. Chamber of Commerce, was vice president of Mississippi Baptist Laymen; and has taught regularly since 1953 the Man's Bible Class.

He was a member of the Starkville Chamber of Commerce, from 1954-1969.

Promises, Promises Has Complex Schedule

"PROMISES, PROMISES," now in preparation at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, offers complicated schedule problems as its director, its vocal coach, and its choreographer, divide the week into rehearsal nights and parcel them out among actors, singers, and dancers. The producer feels that a miracle has come to pass as 32 telephone calls finally produced not ONE, but TWO pianists! In and around the rehearsals Mike Gustine and Pat Murphy put out the old lighting system and install new controls for all the lighting in the theatre.

The new lighting system has been a longtime need at the theatre on Boardman Street. Mike Gustine, who has worked in theatre at the University of Southern Mississippi, has designed a control panel from which all stage and house lights may be worked. Hopefully the new system will include rheostats which will help provide the latest in lighting effects.

Members of Little Theatre are reminded to pick up chits for the night they choose to attend the performance. These may be secured where tickets are sold. On play night the member will present chit and season ticket at the door. The Waveland Drugstore, Gleim's, de Montuzin's, and Griffin's Drugstore all have tickets on sale. New memberships may be obtained at de Montuzin's or by calling Mrs. Fred Wagner, membership chairman.

Seats will be at a premium for the Neil Simon musical comedy on October 5 and 6, and October 12 and 13, as there are only 135 seats being sold each night.

Vice-Commodore and Building Committee Chairman Walter Gehrke met his target date for the first stage of the yacht club improvements as the guests began to arrive for the Lipton Regatta. The membership turned out in force to greet the visitors at the registration desk, prepare and serve the meals and drinks, announce and record the race results and to make everyone feel at home at Bay Waveland. Bill Argus, Regatta Chairman, was responsible for bringing it all together, even the electronic scoreboard. Race Committee Chairman John Christensen and Vice-

Chairman Harry Chapman along with their assistants on the committee boat and other boats gave a fine example of how a Regatta of this size should be conducted.

An informal cocktail party was held in the newly enlarged lounge of the yacht club both Saturday and Sunday immediately following the afternoon races and lasting till midnight. Hors d'oeuvres were served by the members, and entertainment was furnished by John Duquenois at the piano and Bill Argus and Walter Chamberlain on the banjo, and various other artists on the bass tub and wash board. The wet weather did not in any way dampen the spirits of this tremendous Lipton crowd.

While the last Lipton race was being sailed, another group of members was busy towing away the remaining Bay-Waveland boats to protect them from the threatening hurricanes in the Gulf. All the hard work reaped a generous reward as the young Bay-Waveland team won the final victory and the GYA Championship for the third consecutive year.

A post Lipton Victory Party has been planned for the 15th of September for all the team, officials, committee workers and the entire cheering section.

Blond Yacht Club will host the GYA SUNFISH REGATTA on September 15 and 16.

September 22 and 23 will be the last weekend of record racing for the JUNIORS and A-CLASS SKIPPERS.

Waveland To Consider Treatment Plant Bids

Bids for the City of Waveland's proposed multi-thousand dollar sewer treatment plant were expected to be opened in a recessed meeting of the city council Wednesday night.

The project which has been estimated to cost in excess of a half-million dollars will be funded with grants from the Economic Development Agency and the Environmental Protection Agency along with $966,000 issued in bonds by the city.

Plans for the construction of the sewer treatment plant began in 1964 and were actively pursued following Hurricane Camille in 1969.

Plant design was finalized in May, 1971.

At Tuesday night's regular meeting, the council accepted the bid of B&B Chevrolet in the amount of $225 for paint and body work on a city car.

In further business, Mayor Pro-tem John Longo and the board of Aldermen heard requests from representatives of the Bay-Waveland Humane Society concerning the treatment of stray animals.

Instructed the city clerk to again contact the State Highway Department to look into cleaning of an overgrown canal in Shoreline Park.

Advised notice of a public hearing to determine the condition of

Beach Road Project

Breland 31 Days Over Contract Time

Hancock County supervisors have given beach road contractor Don Breland the remainder of the week to complete his contract before the county engineer will be authorized to take action which could lead to voiding of the contract.

The matter of the unfulfilled contract emerged toward the end of the supervisors' Tuesday meeting when County Engineer Larry Seal reported that Breland was 31 days over his scheduled completion date.

Seal was instructed by the board to call a meeting next week with Breland, his bonding company, and the supervisors if the road is not complete as according to specifications.

The supervisors expressed displeasure with Breland at a July 16 board meeting when the contractor had gone 15 days over the 200 stipulated on the contract. Assistant engineer Don Murray predicted then that Breland would have to pay liquidated damages on the job due to the contractor's "erratic and inconsistent work schedule."

Breland told the supervisors at that meeting that he could have the beach road finished in two days.

In a related matter, the board upon the motion of Beat Three Supervisor Oscar Peterson voted to pay Breland $25,651.80 out of earmarked revenue sharing monies for Phase I paving of five county roads.

Beat One Supervisor Jerry Ladner objected to the action and said that he thought the board has agreed not to pay Breland for other projects until the beach road was complete.

Board President Alton A. Kellar, referring to the resolution, corrected Ladner and said that the board had voted not to authorize any more payments only on the beach road until that project was finished.

"We're giving this man more and more roads to do, and he's not finishing the ones he's working on," Ladner said.

He requested that payment be withheld on the Bayou Caddy and Lower Bay roads, both located in his beat, because of "the pitiful job" he said Breland was doing. Ladner urged persons attending Tuesday's meeting to drive on these roads and view their conditions.

Kellar said that many local people were employed on the street projects and their pay would be delayed if the board withheld payment on the streets. Ladner countered with a charge he previously made in July that the board was at fault for giving Breland more work.

Kellar asked Beat Five Supervisor

James Travirca to withdraw a motion to accept the work on the three streets in his beat so that a second motion could be entertained to pay for all five streets. The motion carried with Ladner's objection.

The streets and payments made for each were: Bayou Caddy, $4,512.20; Lower Bay Rd., $1,913.75; Washington Rd., $11,040.35; Chapman Rd., $2,049.75; and Silver Creek Rd., $6,135.75.

In other business, the supervisors awarded the county school district $37,000 of the $50,000 requested from the general fund for the purchase of school buses.

GROVER KILLED ...

Sheriff Ladner said that Slidell officers recognized Curry and Thomas together near a school playground in Slidell at 7:30 a.m. Friday prior to the murder. The pair was seen together again by other witnesses at 9:05 a.m.

Hancock County Coroner Emile Piazza reported that Summers died of massive bleeding when the bullet, estimated to be .38 calibre, entered his upper right arm and severed his jugular vein before lodging within his left side above the waist. No other persons were injured.

Summers was taken to Hancock General Hospital by Riemann ambulance, and his body was later transferred to Riemann-Fahey Funeral Home where a coroner's inquest was conducted.

Echo offices will be closed Friday, Sept. 7 all day to give employees a delayed Labor Day holiday. Regular business hours will resume Monday, Sept. 10.

SBA Industrial Loans Described

Hancock County supervisors, Port and Harbor commissioners, and Hancock Development Corporation members met in joint session Thursday night with a representative from the Small Business Administration to discuss SBA loan grants to industries locating in Port Blenville Industrial Park.

Charles J. Connor with SBA's Gulfport office told the county's leaders that SBA could loan 25 percent of the total project cost for an approved industry with 10 percent coming from the local development company (LDC) and 65 percent from lending institutions, banks, or other sources.

The LDC, in this case the Hancock Development Corp., a non-profit organization, can put up land in lieu of the cash percent. H.H. Shadduck is president of Hancock Development Corp.

The SBA may lend up to $350,000 for each small business to be assisted to State of local development companies of either a profit or nonprofit type provided the company has as its principal purpose the furtherance of economic development.

The loans, provided for under Section 502 of the Small Business Investment Act of 1958, may be used to finance construction, modernization, or conversion of plants, including the purchase of land, and to purchase machinery and equipment. The loans may not be used for working capital or for debt repayment, except interim debt incurred for construction of the project involved.

Among those present at Thursday's learning session were Supervisors' President Alton A. Kellar, Beat One Supervisor Jerry L. Ladner, Beat Five Supervisor James Travirca, Port and Harbor Director Dr. Michael Smith, PEH Commissioners James C. DeBlanc, J.D. McCullough, Oliver Frierson, and Fritz Harris. Also attending were Norton Haas, Michael Haas, H.H. Shattuck, Augustus Elmer, Jr., Luke Caruso, Delmer E. Wilcox, and Earl Ramond of the Development Corp.

Milk Program

Participants in child nutrition programs will now be offered a choice of the type of milk they drink in schools, under regulations just announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). The revised regulations apply to the National School Lunch, School Breakfast, Special Milk and Special Food Service Programs.

Under the new regulations, milk used in these programs may now include lowfat, skim, or cultured buttermilk, unflavored, or flavored, in addition to whole milk. Previously, only fluid whole milk was allowed.

The change, officials of USDA's Food and Nutrition Service said, will allow flexibility in menu planning and encourage student participation in feeding programs.

All types of milk served must, of course, meet state and local standards. A proposal to revise the regulations was announced by the Food and Nutrition Service on June 1 (USDA press release 1695-73), and comments were invited over the next 30 days from all interested persons.

Responses were received from 512 persons. Of those, 501 were in favor, with 10 having reservations, and 11 were opposed, the agency said.

The revised regulations were scheduled to be published in the Federal Register on Aug. 13 and to go into effect immediately upon publication.

White, who indicated that he did not know what the bank's plans were for the area, said that it was unfair for the bank to be expected to hold its property. "No other property owner is expected to sit there, hold his land, and not sell it," White said.

Ladner, who renewed his vow to begin maintenance of the roads immediately if they were accepted, predicted that an office would open in the subdivision this year.

"Mark my words," he said, "somebody is going to open an office out there and sell property at the expense of the taxpayers."

Christ Episcopal Church was the setting for the August 25 afternoon wedding of Miss Shelly Anne Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Thomas Johnston of Bay St. Louis, and Daniel Graydon Boudreaux, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hector J. Boudreaux, Bay St. Louis.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a classic styled gown of silk organza over taffeta. V-shaped rows of swirling Nottingham lace designed the sheer yoke of a lifted bodice and accented the high neckline and short cap sleeves. A band of matching lace, interwoven with yellow ribbon, encircled the waist and hem of a full flowing skirt that swept to a chapel length train. The full length veil of illusion drifted from a Camelot style head piece of corresponding lace.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white and yellow gladiolus florettes.

Miss Cheryl McCullough of Bay St. Louis attended the bride as maid-of-honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Joan Windham, Jackson, and Misses Becky and Sandy Boudreaux, Sisters of the groom, Bay St. Louis. Miss Christy Johnston, New York, niece of the bride, served as

Bay Hi Tigers Face Rugged Schedule

A lack of depth and a rugged schedule loom as major obstacles to Coach J. E. Lolicano's Bay High Tigers as the squad prepares for the season-opener against Stone County this Friday night at Tiger Stadium. Kick-off is set for 7:30 p.m.

The loss of several key players has seen the Tiger roster dwindle to 33 players, the smallest squad Coach Lolicano has fielded in his five years at Bay High. Knowing that the lack of depth will force many players to play both ways, Lolicano and his staff have been working the team hard since August 10.

Bay High's hopes for a winning season rest on 13 returning lettermen and a strong offensive line. Because of the depth problem, however, Coach Lolicano feels that avoiding injuries will be the key to posting a winning mark.

Reports from Wiggins indicate that the Stone Tomcats will be in the thick of the struggle for the Gulf Coast Conference Championship. Coach Mike Nelson will bring to Bay St. Louis a squad of 55 players, described as "big, strong, and fast." Stone is led by two outstanding backs, Buck Halter, a 185-pound tailback, and Mike Gilner, a 220-pound fullback. Probable starters for Bay High will be: on offense - center, Sam Wilkinson, 173 lbs.; guards, Jamie Fine, 160 lbs. and Ed Porter, 182 lbs.; tackles, Sam Piazza, 215 lbs. and Rudy Tillman, 180 lbs.; ends, Leslie Hinson, 175 lbs. and Allison Farve, 146 lbs.; running backs, Dale Lolicano, 165 lbs. and Randy Kranke, 160 lbs.; quarterback, Mike Magee, 170 lbs.; wingback, Irvin Hawkins, 146 lbs. On defense - middle guard, Gilbert Whavers, 225 lbs.; linebackers, Lolicano and Piazza; tackles, Tillman and Glenn Estapa, 240 lbs.; ends, Hinson and Tom Finch, 185 lbs.; defensive backs, John McPhail, 160 lbs., Arnold Fairconnetue, 140 lbs.; Anthony Summer, 150 lbs.; David Ray, 135 lbs. Kicking and punting will be handled by Piazza and Magee.
